

National Government Flees China Mainland

Formosa City 5th Capital This Year

Taipei, Formosa, Dec. 8.—(AP)—The Chinese Nationalist government fled the mainland today.

Its fifth capital in a year was set up on this island 100 miles off the Communist-held coast.

Premier Yeh Hsi-Shan and 14 cabinet members arrived here from Chengtu, the shortest-lived Chinese capital in history, in Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's private plane, the Mei Ling.

Chiang still in Chengtu. The generalissimo remained in Chengtu, Yen said, to organize guerrilla warfare against the conquering Reds.

Flight was decided upon in an emergency cabinet meeting, Yen said. Collapse came after Yen learned, just before taking off, that the airfield at Kunming had been occupied.

This apparently meant that the long-feared defection of Yunnan's governor, Gen. Lu Han, had taken place. He appeared to be holding this great southwest province until the Reds arrive.

The bad news about Lu climaxed a disastrous week. In Kweichow province, Yungling had fallen, depriving the nationalists of a refueling base through which they could supply an inland capital by air. The Reds were taking over the south China coast, and Gen. Pai Chung-Hsi, Moslem leader who had the largest intact nationalist army, had reportedly gone to Hainan island, 300 miles southwest of Hong Kong.

Heavy snow has fallen in the mountains of Szechuan province, blocking overland travel to Sichang, the next intended capital after Chengtu.

The Reds in Szechuan province had pressed past Neikang, important town 90 miles southeast of Chengtu.

But the defection of Lu Han loomed as the final blow. Loss of his strategic Yunnan province would cut the escape route into Burma and French Indo-China. To stall it off, Gen. Chang Chun, commander of the southwest defense headquarters at Chengtu, resigned and flew to Kunming to try to dissuade Lu. Yen's admission that the airport had "been occupied" meant that Chang had failed.

Before Yen left, however, his cabinet approved a plan whereby resistance will continue under the overall direction of the generalissimo (although Yen said Chiang was still in Chengtu, a Hong Kong report said the generalissimo had flown to Hainan island to talk to Gen. Pai Chung-Hsi.)

RUSS SOUGHT A SECRET: GROVES—Lt. Gen. Leslie Groves, wartime atomic chief, told the House Un-American Activities committee that he learned within a month after he became boss of the A-bomb project that Russian spies were trying to steal U. S. atomic secrets.

5 More Plead Guilty In Bulgarian Spy Trial

Sofia, Bulgaria, Dec. 8.—(AP)—Five more defendants of Traicho Kostov, former communist premier, pleaded guilty in the Bulgarian Titoist treason trial today and threw blame on Kostov in the process.

(A British foreign office spokesman, commenting in London on Kostov's repudiation yesterday of the bulk of his pre-trial "confession," said: "It has appeared in the past that these puppet shows have not gone according to plan.")

Ivan Stefanov, former finance minister, wound up this morning a recital of guilt begun last night before the special seven-man court. He, like Kostov, is charged with treason, espionage, treachery and sabotage—crimes punishable under Bulgarian law by death on the gallows.

The Nikola Nachev, former communist deputy construction minister and member of the ministerial council's financial and economic committee, pleaded guilty to similar charges. The next to plead guilty was Boris Christov, for three years a Bulgarian commercial representative in Moscow.

Then came in succession: Tsonov Tsonchev, former governor of the Bulgarian National Bank, who said he personally delivered economic espionage information to U. S. minister Donald R. Heath and a former American military attaché named Colonel Yatevich. (The U. S. state department has denounced the Bulgarian charge that Heath was involved in the plotting as a crude and fanciful tale. The U. S. army register does not list any officer named Yatevich.)

Nikola Pavlov, former administrative secretary of the Bulgarian politburo, and a deputy construction minister. Ivan Tutev, former foreign trade director.

Chicago, Dec. 8.—(AP)—Christmas shoppers today helped capture a 21-year-old man who police said beat and tried to rob a woman office worker.

Miss Patricia Lewis, 49, with a 12-inch paper weight when she refused to hand over money. She was treated in a physician's office for a severe scalp wound.

Miss Lewis is manager of the Mail Advertising Service, and police said the assault occurred in the firm's fifth floor office at 72 West Washington street in the loop.

They said the building janitor, Harry Lightcap, heard Miss Lewis scream, and chased Nelson to the street. Shoppers joined in the pursuit, chasing Nelson into the arms of passing policemen.

A checkup at Central Police Station showed Nelson served jail terms totaling four years for automobile thefts in the last five years. He is a former inmate of the Illinois Training School for Boys at St. Charles.

La Crosse, Wis., Dec. 8.—(AP)—Circuit Judge Roland J. Seimle said today he would give the Arnold Larson jury only two verdicts when it retires to deliberate the fate of the alleged slayer of Dr. James McLoone.

Judge Seimle made his statement after the state and defense rested their cases. Larson, a 35-year-old salesman, has pleaded innocent to the first degree murder of the socially prominent physician two years ago.

"The court will direct only two verdicts—first degree murder or innocent," Judge Seimle said after dismissing the jury for the day. He said closing arguments would start at 8:30 a.m. tomorrow, with each side limited to four hours.

Twenty-two policemen were assigned to the courtroom today as a huge crowd gathered to hear Larson under a long cross-examination during a day-long trial. The state's case against him was closed yesterday.

He denied emphatically that he ever told his wife, No. 27, that he had killed the physician or had threatened to do so in revenge for the death of his two-year-old son. The child had been attacked by Dr. McLoone in his fatal illness in 1944.

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 8.—(AP)—M. C. Zellmer of Chicago today was elected president of the Illinois Seed Dealers Association.

Other officers named at the group's annual winter meeting included O. J. Sommer, Pekin, vice president; Charles Clark, Chicago, secretary; and Leonard Condon, Jr., Rockford, treasurer.

Harold Goodwin, Bloomington; Robert Keller, Quincy; and T. H. Beeson, Paris, were elected directors.

Freeport, Ill., Dec. 8.—(AP)—Henry A. Lichtenberger, 53, a Freeport investment counselor for more than 25 years, was indicted yesterday on charges of embezzling $11,140.

The Stephenson county grand jury returned three indictments, each charging Lichtenberger with converting funds entrusted by investors to his own use.

Peoria, Ill., Dec. 8.—(AP)—Two young masked gunmen held up the Grace hotel night clerk early today and took $10 of the hotel's money. They didn't leave E. E. Kennedy with even a nickel to call the police. It took him 15 minutes to rouse a guest and borrow one to use the toll telephone.

Tuscola, Ill., Dec. 8.—(AP)—A coroner's jury last night decided that a Houston, Tex., electrical engineer committed suicide.

The man was Fred Sherman Mansfield, 57, who had been given shelter in the Douglas county jail Dec. 2 after he came ill on a bus. His body was found hanging in his cell that afternoon.

Murphysboro, Ill., Dec. 8.—(AP)—Fred Fraser, indicted for alleged embezzlement while Jackson county circuit court clerk and recorder, was jailed last night after several weeks of freedom on bond.

State's Attorney John Gilbert said the signers of Fraser's $10,000 bond, Joseph Beasley and Anthony Stagnor, Murphysboro tavern operators, asked to be released and surrendered Fraser late yesterday.

Bloomington, Ill., Dec. 8.—(AP)—Warren Meeker, 22, a student at the University of Illinois, was killed today in a car-train crossing collision after visiting his sick wife in a hospital here.

Meeker, of nearby Cropsey, Ill., was en route from the hospital to the university. His car struck a moving locomotive on the Nickel Plate road at a crossing south of here. The car was thrown 60 feet and he died instantly.

Waukegan, Ill., Dec. 8.—(AP)—Harry Lindberg, 45, former Waukegan assistant supervisor, pleaded innocent today to an indictment charging him with manslaughter in the death of Victor Thomsen, Sr., 50.

Lindberg is accused of striking Thomsen a fatal head blow with a beer bottle in a tavern brawl Nov. 2. He was released on bond by Circuit Judge Ralph J. Dady.

Glenridge, Ill., Dec. 8.—(AP)—A co-operatively owned coal mine in this southern Illinois village agreed today to sign a new contract with the United Mine Workers, local UMW president Vic Meyer reported.

The mine, where 120 of its 150 workers own the works equally, will resume five day a week production tomorrow morning, Meyer said.

Chicago, Dec. 8.—(AP)—The throat cancer tumor of a patient treated with this country's only medical beam, had healed, a radiologist reported today.

Dr. Roger A. Harvey, head of the University of Illinois radiology department, said: "The tumor is healed, but we don't say he is cured."

Medicine does not recognize a cure unless there is no recurrence for five years.

PBY Rescues Five After Small Plane Crashes In Ocean

Miami, Fla., Dec. 8.—(AP)—A coast guard plane snatched four Californians—including two small children—and a New Jersey man from the Atlantic today in a dramatic rescue.

The five were clinging to two barrel-shaped empty plastic gas tanks when the huge PBY swooped down and rescued them two hours after their small plane crashed-landed and sank in the ocean near Bimini, a Bahamian island, 60 miles east of Miami.

Saved were A. K. Henneken, 39, the pilot, his wife, No. 4, K. Henneken, 25, their two children, Robert H., two, and A. K., Jr., five, all of Monterey, California; and T. G. Jungerson, Jr., 29, of Summit, N.J.

Their little aircraft was on a flight from San Juan, Puerto Rico, to Miami when it radioed it was going down.

"Something happened to the timing system when we were about 10 miles past Bimini," Jungerson said as he sipped hot coffee at coast guard air-sea rescue headquarters in Miami where all five were taken, apparently none the worse for their experience.

A M A Orders Compulsory Dues To Fight 'Socialized Medicine'

Washington, Dec. 3.—(AP)—The American Medical Association today ordered compulsory $3,050,000 annual dues for its membership, part of it to war on so-called "socialized medicine" proposals.

How much of the $25 a head levy will be allocated for this purpose will depend on "how the battle develops," said Dr. Louis Bauer of New York, chairman of the AMA's board of trustees.

But the AMA, foe of President Truman's proposal for government-administered medical care, has already thrown more than $1,300,000 into that fight this year—from funds obtained by voluntary assessments.

Its leaders have declared that next year may see "medicine's armageddon"—a decisive, win-or-lose struggle, with congress deciding the outcome.

Dr. Bauer said that "in all probability" as much would be spent in 1950 as this year, but he did not state whether it would be more. He asserted that the AMA is not planning any extension of its "national education program"—set up to combat proposed federalized compulsory health insurance—"unless it becomes necessary."

He and other officials said funds from dues would also be devoted to expanding voluntary health insurance plans throughout the nation and to all activities of the AMA including scientific ones.

Bauer made the statements at a news conference after the AMA's legislative house of delegates had voted unanimously to tap its members for the dues—and to drop them from the rolls if delinquent for a year.

However, there are strong indications that only about 122,000 of the AMA's full membership of 143,700 will be required to pay—with retired, ill, fledgling, and financially-straitened doctors being exempt.

The dues will be collected by county medical societies throughout the country for transmittal to the AMA. But it will be up to the secretary of the AMA to notify members of delinquency. If they don't pay up within 30 days after they've been notified, out they go from the AMA. They can be reinstated, however, by paying up their back dues.

Workers Building 2 AEC Plants End Four Day Strike

Oak Ridge, Tenn., Dec. 8.—(AP)—Construction workers employed on multimillion dollar atomic plant projects here ended a four-day wildcat strike today.

An atomic energy commission announcement signaled the end of the first walkout in the history of this young atomic city.

R. W. Cook, Oak Ridge operations manager for the AEC, said a "whole-sale back-to-work movement" got underway during the morning.

"We consider the strike ended," added C. A. Budnik, supervising engineer for the Maxon Construction Company of Dayton, O., which is doing the building.

Some 3,000 workers had halted work on a $66,000,000 uranium-235 producing plant and delayed preparations for start of work on another $162,000,000 plant.

These are the third and fourth in a series of atomic plants using the gaseous diffusion process to separate the fissionable element U-235 from natural uranium.

Remains Of Nine Air Crash Victims Found In Wreckage

Vallejo, Calif., Dec. 8.—(AP)—Charred remains of nine victims of a commercial airline plane crash were found today amid the wreckage on a steep hill near here.

The victims included three crewmen, three children and three adult passengers. Two of the dead were the wife and son of the owner of California Arrow Airways, operators of the smashed DC-3 plane.

Bound from Burbank, Calif., to Sacramento, the plane had stopped at Oakland before 5 p.m. yesterday to discharge 10 passengers. It took off on the 90-mile hop to Sacramento and at 5:08 p.m. the pilot, James S. Garnett, 33, Redondo Beach, radioed he was over Richmond.

Authorities estimate it was only about six minutes later when he radioed into the side of the 1,000-foot hill six miles east of here. All aboard died as the plane burst into flames.

Solano County Coroner Cyril McDonald began removing the victims who were identified as:

The pilot, Garnett; co-pilot Meade Dillon and stewardess Susan Devore, 24, Los Angeles; Mrs. George Batchelor, wife of the plane owner, and their son, Pat, of Burbank; Vincent N. Figley, Laguna Beach, Calif., and Mrs. Marian Kimball, 23, of Pasadena, Calif., and her two infant sons, Leland III, 18 months, and John Wesley, six months.

UN Okays Hands Off Attitude In China Civil War

New York, Dec. 8.—(AP)—An American-sponsored policy for all nations to keep hands off China and let the Chinese people settle their own difficulties was approved today by a big vote in the United Nations assembly.

The assembly also turned the China case over to the year-around little assembly for continuing study of nationalist charges of Russian help to the Chinese Reds.

Partly satisfied, Dr. T. F. Tsiang, chief nationalist China delegate here, told reporters his government would fight on indefinitely from inside China, and on Formosa and Hainan.

He said he would press his case in the little assembly as soon as possible, perhaps early next month, and would offer detailed information to back his charges that the Soviet Union is helping the Chinese communists of Mao Tse-tung.

The hands-off policy backed only by the moral force of the U. N., was approved 45 to 5. Only the Russian bloc, which did not take part in the debate and which has boycotted the little assembly, voted against the proposal.

Testifies He Doesn't Know How Many

New York, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Lt. Gen. Leslie R. Groves, retired former head of the A-bomb project, said today he thought the Russians had obtained some of our wartime secrets.

"How much they obtained nobody knows," he said. The wartime chief of the atomic bomb project said he hoped the House un-American activities committee would continue its current investigation, especially in an effort to find out "whether there were enormous, unnecessary shipments to Russia."

Denies Any Pressure. Groves denied yesterday that Henry A. Wallace and the late Harry Hopkins "pressured" him to release atomic materials or secrets to the Russians. Today, however, he said he had withheld from Wallace secret reports which normally would have gone to the former vice-president.

The reports, Groves said, would have gone to Wallace as a member of the president's special committee on atomic energy.

In Washington, House probes sought to find the trial of wartime shipments of uranium materials to Russia, spurred by a Canadian announcement that 1,000 pounds of such material had been sent to the Soviet in 1943.

House committee investigators also think they may uncover a 1,000 gram shipment of heavy water to the Russians, although Groves doubts it. Canadian Trade Minister C. D. Howe said 500 pounds of black uranium oxide and 500 pounds of uranium nitrate were sold the Russians in May, 1943, through normal trade channels.

Too Small To Count. Informed circles said that while both materials are used in atom-bomb making, the amount of the Canadian shipment was so small it could have no appreciable importance on the Soviet's bomb development.

In an interview by telephone today from Norwalk, Conn., Groves elaborated on his testimony yesterday before the House committee.

Groves said he showed one of the secret reports on atomic developments to Wallace in the fall of 1943—but withheld others that followed from the then vice-president.

Asked why he had done so, Groves said he just "preferred not to."

He was asked if this was a deliberate withholding of information from Wallace.

"Some people might think so," he replied.

Asked if there was any special reason for his action Groves said: "We took a number of deliberate risks on security matters in an effort, but we took no unnecessary risk to bring the war to a quicker finish."

Fire Marshal Says Capitol In Need Of Fire Protection

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 8.—(AP)—The aging Illinois capitol needs its fire protection improved, State Fire Marshal Pat Kelly said today.

To do the job, Kelly urged architectural and engineering survey on the $4,500,000 structure which was started in 1868 and completed 22 years later.

Kelly made the recommendation in his report on a small fire that broke out two weeks ago in an unoccupied portion of the fourth floor. The blaze caused $600 damage.

The investigation ruled out the theory that a lighted cigarette picked up by a pigeon might have started the fire. The report said that sun shining through a skylight and resulting in spontaneous combustion probably was responsible.

Kelly suggested better marking of emergency exits to guide state workers to safety in the event of a more serious blaze.

ROB POOR HOUSE INMATE. Enfield, Eng., Dec. 8.—(AP)—Two men and a woman broke into an Enfield poor house today and robbed an aged woman inmate of her belongings and $50 ($140). Miss Florence Knight, 82, said she had saved the money over 20 years to pay for her funeral.

WEATHER. The Norbury Sanatorium, cooperative observer for the United States Weather Bureau, yesterday reported the temperatures for Thursday as follows: High 32; low 17; and at 6 p.m. 25.

Sunset today, 4:38; sunrise Saturday, 7:08.

Forecast for Illinois—Partly cloudy, and somewhat warmer with freezing rain or snow by tonight. High 30 to 34.

Appellate Court Okays Release Of Ricca (The Waiter)

Chicago, Dec. 8.—(AP)—The U.S. Circuit Court of appeals today upheld the release of Paul (the waiter) Ricca from Federal prison where he was serving time for extortion.

Ricca, Louis Campagna and Charles Gioe, one time Capone gang mobsters, were sentenced to 10-year terms in New York in 1940 on charges of extorting $1,000,000 from the movie industry.

The three men were paroled in 1940 but the paroles later were revoked. Campagna and Gioe were hustled back to cells at the Atlanta, Ga., Federal prison, but Ricca appealed to the Federal courts.

District Judge Michael L. Igoe ruled last June that Ricca was entitled to his freedom. The government appealed to the Circuit Court which today upheld Judge Igoe.

Ricca has been at liberty on bond pending the appeal.

Guitar Playing Horse Is Missing

Chicago, Dec. 8.—(AP)—Police had a new item on their list of missing today—a horse that plays a guitar.

Henry Paratiere, owner of "Bob White," a show horse, complained that the animal and his trainer, John Wise, disappeared yesterday.

He swore out a warrant charging Wise with horse theft.

In Illinois that's worse than automobile theft. Horse thieves face a penalty of three to 20 years in prison. The sentence for auto theft is one to 20 years.

Paratiere said the horse really can play a guitar and was supposed to demonstrate his art in Rockford, Ill., tomorrow.

500 Attend Rock River Credit Assn.

Sterling, Ill., Dec. 8.—(AP)—More than 500 persons from Whiteside and Lee counties today attended the 16th annual meeting of the Rock River production credit association.

Officers announced that the "farmers' credit organization" made loans totaling $2,300,656 thus far this year, compared with $2,021,800 in 1948.

Glen Pfoutz of Ashton was elected a director.

ADOLPH DERR, 95, DIES. Sterling, Ill., Dec. 8.—(AP)—Adolph Derr, Sr., 95, of Mt. Carroll, died last night. He is survived by 9 children, 36 grand children and 48 great grand children.

Fred Scholfield Dies At Home Here Thursday

Frederick John Scholfield, prominently identified with civic affairs in this community for a number of years, passed away Thursday at 3:20 a. m. at his home, 1722 South East street.

A charter member of the Morgan County Farm Bureau, Mr. Scholfield had served several terms as president of that organization. He had also served on the school board for many years.

Since early childhood, he had been an active member of the Methodist church. He also held membership in numerous civic and fraternal organizations, including Illini Lodge No. 1, I. O. O. F., and the American War Dads.

The youngest in a family of ten children, Mr. Scholfield was born in the Elm Grove community, near Lynnville, on Aug. 3, 1876, the son of Thomas and Elizabeth Herring Scholfield. The only survivor among his brothers and sisters is William Scholfield of Gardena, Calif.

On Sept. 16, 1903, he was united in marriage with Leona Mildred Rawlings, who survives, together with the following children: Keith R. Scholfield of Moline; Mrs. Ralph G. Heaton (Frances) of Murrayville; Reat Scholfield of Hope Valley, R.I.; Philip Scholfield of Moline; and Mrs. Anton Engel (Leitha) of Jacksonville.

Also surviving are 18 grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Grace Methodist church. Dr. Frank Marston will officiate, assisted by Dr. Arthur F. Ewert. The body is at the Cody & Son Memorial Home, where the family will receive friends Friday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

Wing Shooting Expert Host To School Board

Principal Griffith of the Murrayville grade school doesn't do much fooling around when a flock of quail gets up in front of him.

When he cuts down on them, he expects the birds to fall. On two hunting trips last week on successive days, Principal Griffiths bagged 18 quail out of 20 shots. The result was a quail dinner served at his home in Murrayville Tuesday evening to members of the consolidated school board, which held its regular meeting.

Board members present at the dinner were Ball Fitzsimmons, Floyd Smith, Robert Whitlock, Bud Langdon, David Millon, James Garfield and Martin Connolly.

County Supt. John Deem and Mrs. Deem were guests at the dinner. Supt. Deem explained the visual aid program in use in the county schools, after which the board voted participation.

Few people can trace their ancestors beyond the fourth generation, or their great-great-grandparents.

FARMERS COMPLAIN OF CREEK POLLUTION

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 8.—(P)—The state sanitary board today summoned city officials of Albion, Ill., to answer charges that city sewage is polluting Butter creek.

The board said they will be asked at a hearing here Dec. 19 to show cause why they should not be ordered to abate pollution.

Clarence W. Klassen, technical secretary, said sewage emptied into the creek, a Wabash river tributary, was "inadequately treated" and that farmers along the creek below the town had complained.

Chas. Kaltschnee Wins $232 Prize In Trap Shooting

Charles Kaltschnee of Essex, Scott county, Ill., fired the highest score of any marksmen in the twenty-first December tournament at Elliott's Shooting Park in Kansas City, Mo. Breaking 148 out of a possible 150 targets at 16 yards, Kaltschnee won a purse of $232.70.

His performance topped all participants in both the A and I ateur divisions, the Kansas City Star reported. Kaltschnee shot in a field in which were several top amateur gunners of America.

First place in Class A was shared by M. F. Kaslin of Wathena, Kan., and Phil Miller, Kansas City, each scoring 146 targets out of 150. Dr. D. O. Taggart, Whiting, Ind., broke 139 to take Class C honors.

ULTRA (meaning the last word) MATIC (meaning fully automatic)

-- there's never been anything like Packard Ultramatic Drive

IMPARTIAL, independent technical observers gave us the idea for the name...

They reviewed the basic principles of this new Packard automatic drive... heard about the 16-year development and test program behind it. They drove it themselves... compared its performance with that of other leading types of drives. Then, out of their own experience, they told us:

"The best way to describe this Packard drive is to say it's the last word in automatic, no-shift control!"

★ New simplicity: Naturally, there's no clutch pedal. And that's only the first hint of the convenience of Packard Ultramatic Drive! There's nothing new to learn. Just step on the gas, and steer!

★ New smoothness, new quietness. No jerking or "clunking," because there's no gear-shifting anywhere. No "racing engine" sensation, because there's no slippage at cruising speeds.

★ New safety: No chance of involuntary, unexpected "down-shifts," which might cause a prolonged skid on slippery pavement. Packard Ultramatic Drive gives you smooth, gradual engine braking power for safe deceleration.

★ New economy: Ultramatic Drive saves gas—because there's no slippage at cruising speeds. And thanks to its advanced design, Packard Ultramatic Drive requires no complicated maintenance.

★ More responsive: No lag, at traffic speeds or highway speeds, waiting for gears to shift. For instant bursts of safety-sprint acceleration—just "tramp down."

★ More positive, more flexible: Your choice of high-range, or low-range operation—with rapid acceleration, and slippage-free cruising, in each range. Easy shift from forward to reverse. Yes, you can rock the car in snow!

Come in for your introductory drive!

As has been the custom, Home Bureau plans a program for the entertainment of the ladies on the day of the annual Farm Bureau meeting, while the men are in business sessions of their own organization.

The cuts were made for both wholesale and retail trade. Mr. Birnbaum explained each operation and cut and gave many helpful suggestions to homemakers about how to cook and use the various cuts, especially the less expensive ones.

What It Means. Diplomatic Recognition

By CLARKE BEACH
Washington—The United States is wielding a small stick against the Communist Chinese government by failing to recognize it. But a high diplomatic authority says non-recognition can't last forever.

In the long run, he says, the withholding of recognition is not a powerful lever. U. S. recognition gives prestige and strength to a new government, but once other governments have accorded recognition, a nod from the U. S. would not mean so much as it would now.

By withholding recognition at this time, the U. S. hopes to make it clear to the Chinese Reds that it doesn't intend to accept on an equal diplomatic footing any nation which doesn't fulfill its international obligations. The Reds' mistreatment of Angus Ward and other American citizens was enough in itself to disgust American diplomats.

To obtain American recognition, Secretary of State Acheson has said, the Chinese Communists must not only live up to their international obligations. They also must control their whole country, and the Chinese people must at least acquiesce in their rule.

For generations the American government has required that new governments meet those tests before they are recognized. Thomas Jefferson first formulated the viewpoint that recognition doesn't mean approval—only that the U. S. acknowledges existence of the regime.

"It is recognition of a set of facts, nothing more," says Secretary of State Acheson. "We may have the gravest reservations as to the matter in which it has come into power. We may deplore its attitude toward civil liberties. Yet our long-range objectives in the promotion of democratic institutions may, in fact, be best served by recognizing it and thus maintaining a channel of communication with the country involved."

Recognition of a new government has advantages for both sides. That's the reason some other countries are reported to be eager to recognize the Chinese Reds as soon as possible. It opens the channels of diplomatic intercourse. Before recognition envoys of foreign powers have no immunity, no diplomatic status. They are treated like private citizens and can be of only limited use to the governments they represent. If an envoy of a country you don't recognize turns up in your country, you can deport him as an alien illegally in your country.

An unrecognized government can't be prosecuted before international tribunals in case it fails to live up to treaties and other obligations. One government doesn't have access to the courts of another nation unless it is recognized. It couldn't use to enforce contracts and to obtain damages for confiscation of property. Under such circumstances, a government finds it hard to make loans or to write contracts for purchases.

The authority to recognize a new government rests with the President. This has been standard procedure for many years, although at times it has been argued that the power was held jointly by the President and Congress.

At any rate Congress must acquiesce, for no ambassador can be accredited until the Senate has confirmed him. In China's case, the administration has promised that the President would not extend recognition until after the State Department had discussed the matter with the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

"LOOK, NO TORSO!"—This "Reclining Woman" with a detached air about her is an attraction of the Royal Society of British Artists' winter exhibition in London. The 231-pound wood-carving was created by F. F. McWilliam.

In 1913, when the question of recognizing the new Chinese Republic came up, the issue was hotly debated. A group in Congress felt that the President was delaying too long and a resolution was introduced declaring that the new government was recognized. But it never passed.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

Chicago, Dec. 8—(P)—Hogs regained 25 cents a hundred pounds today in an active trade. Cattle were unevenly strong to weak and sheep generally steady.

Salable receipts of hogs at 13,000 were 3,000 lower than trade expectations. Some weights of barrows and gilts sold 40 cents higher but the general range was $14.50 to $16, the run's top price. Sows took $12.75 to $13.50 mostly with a few choice going to $13.75 and heavies as low as $11.50. Clearance was completed early.

Choice cattle were absent. A few loads of good steers and yearlings brought $29.25 to $32.00 and medium to low-good kinds made $22 to $27.50. Low-good heifers took $26. Beef cows topped at $17.50, sausage bulls at $20.25, and vealers at $27. Lightweight woolled lambs topped at $23.50 and clips at $23 while those weighing 110 pounds and above ranged from $19 to $21.50. Ewes topped at $12.

Estimated receipts included 4,000 cattle, 500 calves, and 4,000 sheep. The U.S. Bureau of Reclamation estimates western American rivers could generate as much electricity in a year as 600,000,000 barrels of petroleum burned in steam plants.

Unbeaten Crimsons Meet Pittsfield In DP Gym Tonight

Blueboy Five On Tour; Washington U. Tonight, Face Quincy Saturday

After a successful home stand against McKendree college last Saturday night, the Blueboy basketball team will take to the road against Washington U. tonight and Quincy Saturday.

This evening they tour to St. Louis to face the powerful Washington university Bears, Saturday they will play Quincy where Coach Ray DeGreeff and his Quincy college Hawks will undoubtedly have a hot reception planned for them.

Coach Blair Gullion of the Bears has five varsity lettermen returning from the club that won 13 and lost nine games last year in competition with top flight opposition, and that ranked 73rd in the nation. In addition, he has back the men from a brilliant junior varsity club of last season and an outstanding transfer prospect.

Washington Tall, Fast
With from ten to twelve first line players from whom to choose his starting quintet, Coach Gullion can floor a tall and speedy club. He has two 6'5" centers who are considered to be of practically equal ability.

Last season Washington U. was considered one of the best defensive clubs in the country. They held their opposition to an average of 45 points per game in 22 contests, but their possession style of play held their own scoring average down to 49 points per encounter. So there will probably be two contrasting styles of play in the game, for the Blueboys always endeavor to play a race horse type of ball. They talked

Villemain To Fight LaMotta In Non-Title Bout

New York, Dec. 8.—(P)—Little Robert Villemain, whose loss to Jake LaMotta the last time they met brought about suspension of two officials, takes on the middleweight champion again tomorrow night with the hopes of gaining a title fight.

The two will mix in a non-title ten at Madison Square Garden with LaMotta a 5 to 12 choice to capture the verdict. It will mark the Bronx Bull's first ring outing since he lifted the crown from the late Marcel Cerdan in Detroit last June.

It also may be Jake's last non-title fight in these parts for awhile. Eddie Egan, chairman of the New York State Athletic commission has named LaMotta to defend his championship soon since his six months of grace expires Dec. 15.

Villemain, a big underdog also in his first meeting with LaMotta here last March 25, has a grand opportunity ahead of him. A victory over LaMotta will stamp him as a logical title foe for LaMotta.

Season Too Young To Tell Best Prep Quints In State

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 8.—(P)—Mt. Vernon, Moline and some other early season favorites in the Illinois prep basketball race go after new victims Friday and Saturday.

The full schedule of games should throw some light on which schools to watch as strong bidders for state honors.

The defending champions from Mt. Vernon, with two easy wins to their credit, take on Marion Friday and Salem the next night. Marion is expected to provide the first real test for the veteran Mt. Vernon lineup.

Moline, regarded as a power in the northwest area, faces double trouble but has the chance of building up more prestige. The undefeated Maroons play Friday night at Galesburg, whose streaks have captured two straight, and then return home Saturday for an engagement with Collinsville from the southwest.

West Rockford's hot shooters, who have averaged 57 points, aim for victory No. 5 and are expected to get it at the expense of Steinmetz of Chicago. The Rockford club, judging by its impressive start, is going to be one of the northern section's strongest contenders.

Intramural II Whips Varsity

Richmond, Va., Dec. 8.—(P)—When Kappa Sigma's football team won the University of Richmond intramural championship, great was the jubilation in the lodge.

The champs dragged so much that their fraternity brothers who play on the Richmond varsity figured to take them down a peg. They challenged the champs to a game.

The game was played today. The intramural titlists won, 20-0.

A summary of the game can be written in two words — "hot and cold." With Chapin's Jimmy Bonds hitting for 20 tallies in a little over two quarters of action and Ommen, Chapin forward, getting 18, the entertaining quint had little trouble shooting to the conference victory.

Dunniway of Chapin also hit the two digit figures, scoring 11. Irvin Carlstedt was the lone Tiger who reached the 10 points total.

Little Leo Ceci, usually a ball of fire with his long one-hander, was definitely off at the hoop and it was midway through the fourth period before he finally dropped in two baskets which, added to three gift tosses, brought his total to seven.

Chapin Uses Zone
Obviously not at home on the smaller court, Spike Wilson's short-er five was unable to cope with the two-three zone defense that Chapin threw its way and had scored but 12 points at intermission time.

Chapin, in the meantime, had

Petersburg Pastor Addresses Kiwanis Club In Virginia

Virginia—Rev. Frank McLaughan of Petersburg was the speaker at the weekly meeting of the Virginia Kiwanis club held at the Virginia Legion hall Monday.

The speaker took as his subject, "Helping One Another." He cited examples of how one person helped at the beginning of a day passed on the spirit, helping many people before the day was over. In a humorous manner, the Rev. McLaughan referred to what the people expected the preacher to be. In a more serious manner he told the sense of satisfaction that the preacher got out of his effort to help others.

Committee reports indicated that plans for the decoration of the business section of the city were under way and that the treat for the first and second graders would be carried out again this year. Due principally to school consolidations the number of pupils in these two grades now number more than 90 while in former years the number was about 60.

Retiring Kiwanian Lt. Governor, Colby Beekman of Petersburg was present and extended an invitation to the members of the Virginia club to attend the Charter night for the new Kiwanis club at Kibbourne, scheduled for Dec. 19.

Graveside Rites Held At Franklin For Carroll Infant

Graveside rites for one of the infant twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Carroll of Franklin were held Thursday at 9:30 a. m. at Sacred Heart cemetery in Franklin, with Rev. Michael Kearns officiating.

The twins were born early Tuesday morning at Our Saviour's hospital. Shortly after, they were taken to St. John's hospital in Springfield for special attention. One of the infants died about 9 o'clock Tuesday night. The other is said to be in satisfactory condition.

Surviving together with the parents and other twin are two sisters and three brothers, Mary and Martha, Jackie, Eddie and Leo, all at home and the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Foster.

Mrs. Carroll was formerly Miss Velma Foster.

128 Young People Attend Y Center's Informal Concert

The jazz concert and dance put on by an informal gathering of musicians at the YMCA's "Coed Club" night Thursday drew a crowd of 128 young adults. Students from Illinois and MacMurray Colleges formed the main part of the attendance, although there were a number of other young people on hand, some from surrounding communities.

Both hot and slow selections were rendered by the band, which was composed of many of Boots Brennan's and Jimmy Conlee's players together with anyone else wishing to participate.

A music teacher, some old timers glad of the chance to play again and college students were some of the musicians. All donated their services free of charge.

Next Thursday the two colleges will be closed for the holidays, but the YMCA will be open for the benefit of any young adults who desire to come and dance to records or take part in games. An orchestra, probably Boots Brennan's, will be hired to play there Jan. 5.

Illinois College Choir Presents Xmas Concert

By Joachim Stenzel

"Silent Night," sung by choir and audience in an auditorium faintly lit by one lone candle high on the organ loft, will remain a lovely thing to remember for the many friends of Illinois College who filled State Street Presbyterian church last night when the choir presented their annual Christmas concert.

The group, led with ability and understanding by Henry Busche, was heard first in several classical numbers, outstanding among them Samuel Scheidt's "Oh Jesu so sweet," in the arrangement by Johann Sebastian Bach. Several offerings followed that featured soloists—Charles Coates, violinist; Barbara Stern, mezzo-soprano; and Ed Hill, bass. The choir then included the group with the reading of William Dawson's "There is a balm in Gilead"—without a doubt the most complex and difficult work of the evening. Incidental solos were handled here by Jane Harriman and Robert Read.

The contest climaxed in a "Ceremony for Carols"—"O Little Town of Bethlehem" was sung by candlelight, and then, during the singing of "Silent Night," the individual candles were extinguished, and the choir presented the lovely "Conventry Carol" in the darkened auditorium.

To the solemn strains of the processional, in which the audience again joined, the choir then retreated to the rear of the church and bade the audience farewell with the reading of the joyful and humorous English yule song "Gloucestershire Wassail."

A BLAST from the pistol reverberated through the room and Reddy heard the sound of shattering pottery behind him. From his crouching position he made a blind tackle at Tom O'Neill's legs and heard Tom grunt as he hit the brick floor. Once more Reddy encountered Tom's astonishing strength as the older man thrashed around beneath him. He grabbed frantically for Tom's right arm.

The gun thundered again. This time Reddy could feel the vibration of its mechanism under his hand—the hand locked around Tom's wrist.

Reddy let go of the suddenly limp muscles. The cold sweat of horror began to drain from his pores as, for a second or two, he stared down at the red pulp that had been Tom's face.

Backing away, he stumbled over the broken figurine and looked down at it stupidly. The blue clay, and what it had concealed, were without significance now. Reddy sagged against the work bench, staring at its untidy collection of objects that, unexplainably, had assumed the mute poignancy of a dead child's toys.

Gradually, a distant pounding seeped into his consciousness. He took note of it numbly—somebody at Tom's front door. A louder sound, now, a splintering, tearing sound.

Chief Peters surged into the room. "Charlie! Did he get you? We heard the shots—" he broke off as his eyes found Tom O'Neill.

Trotter came up behind him, followed by a patrolman.

Peters took off his hat. "Murderer and all that," he mumbled, "but, in some ways, O'Neill was a likable old boy." Peters nodded. "Good thing. I mean, good thing he blew his own head off instead of going for you." He pointed to a streak of blood on Reddy's jacket. "What's that? You get nicked someplace?"

Reddy shook his head and did not look at the stain. "Tom's. We were fighting for the gun."

Peters buttoned his gun into the holster on his hip. "Our friend Yakov came around, finally. He was able to tell us it was Tom who'd clobbered him. Then he told us where to find the letters he'd swiped from Falter's secret box. Remember how we searched the Russian's place? Well, those damn letters were there all the time, tacked to a board behind Hagar Blair's portrait where nobody'd have thought of looking! Trotter told me you went hi-tailing off for someplace and after I read the letters, I figured you'd got wind of Tom and headed up here."

At the hospital the next day, Stephanie, Hagar and Trotter stood at Yakov's bedside. The open locket and an open piece of paper were in Stephanie's hands.

"Ah, yes, Dr. Ulrich," Yakov drew a deep breath. "Well, it is their own doing. In one respect, I am happy. My task is finished."

He turned to Trotter: "To sum up, sir, in what you are pleased to call a nutshell, the paper tells the whereabouts of the remainder of the Orloff jewels—of a value second only to those of the Crown, which disappeared shortly after the termination of the Czarist regime."

Hagar glanced at Stephanie triumphantly: "See? This has nothing to do with you at all. The Orloff jewels. And the big clue right here in Dolorosa in your mother's locket!"

When Yakov again began to speak, every eye was on his lips. "Colonel Serenov, a close friend of the Orloffs, was said to know the whereabouts of the jewels. It was thought that they had been hidden somewhere until a propitious time for their recovery by what remained of the Duke's family. Colonel Serenov—" he paused and glanced at Stephanie's suddenly white face—"unfortunately, met with a fatal accident. It was assumed that Madame Serenov, who had fled to America, carried with her the knowledge of where the jewels were hidden. A certain personage, who later was questioned by the new government, suggested that Mme. Serenov's famous cameo locket contained the information that was sought."

Yakov's voice trailed off as he finished with:

"I have merely been searching for information which would enable the Russian treasury to obtain new and much-needed resources. This I did because of certain obligations which remain behind me in the mother country."

"This Dr. Ulrich probably has 'em all safe and sound at St. Petersburg College!" Hagar decided.

Yakov shook his head. "Dr. Ulrich was—I believe the popular term is, liquidated—in 1938."

TROTTER returned his pipe to the leather pouch. "What do you think is the significance of the special edition of 'The Cherry Orchard' mentioned in the paper?"

Yakov gave a slight shrug: "That, also, has been wheeling through my mind like a canopied cart. It would be unlikely that there would be a special bound edition of a single play—the work would not be of sufficient importance to occupy an entire edition. I think, perhaps, that this very fact signifies that the book would not be what it appeared. Something which seemed to be an elaborately bound book, perhaps the type with a little lock across the pages, could, in reality, be something else. A fine little casket in which the Orloff bracelets and rings and brooches and unset gems could rest quite snugly. So? It could quite possibly be that Dr. Ulrich's special edition of Mr. Chekov's play could be worth the disproportionate sum of 5,000,000, rubles. Undoubtedly, however, Dr. Ulrich took care that this fabulous book was safely hidden away before he was brought to trial." Yakov sighed. "The quest will go on, but this time I shall not be among the hunters."

A FIG FOR BOSSY
Merced, Calif.—(AP)—For 25 years dairy farmers in Merced County have been feeding unmarketable figs to their cows. The cows like the sweet taste, says farm adviser W. H. Allison.

Figs have almost as much food value as barley, he says, but adds that they have to be mixed with other feed. More than 25 per cent fig content has a laxative effect.

Cass Home Bureau Gives Lesson On Dress Remodeling

Virginia—Miss Edna Gray, clothing specialist of the University of Illinois, was in Cass county Nov. 30 and trained 22 local Home Bureau unit leaders for the major lesson on "New Ideas for Remodeling Old Clothing," which will be given in all units in the county in January.

This lesson will be of special interest to all women, for there are in many closets dresses and other garments made of beautiful material that have become out of style. Miss Gray gave many suggestions and ideas for making over those clothes.

Miss Gray has had years of training and experience in the clothing field. Her professional ability, together with her fine personality and keen sense of humor, combined to make this training school one of the most unusual and helpful for some time.

Members Fashion Gloves

About 20 Home Bureau members gathered at their office Nov. 29 to make kid gloves.

The women had ordered the leather through the Home Bureau office. It was black kid of exceptionally fine quality.

Sack lunches were enjoyed at noon with Home Bureau furnishing the coffee.

Three White Hall Churches Share Drive-In Profits

White Hall—The union evening service was held Sunday night at the First Christian church, with Charles Coates presiding. Rev. Vandettum of the Methodist church bringing the message and Rev. Walter Wilson of the Presbyterian church giving prayer and reading the Scripture. Rev. Vandettum treasurer of the evening drive-in services held during the past summer in Lions park, declared a dividend from these services, after all expenses incurred were paid, and presented a representative of each church with a sizeable amount for their part in the service.

A substantial amount was left in the treasury to start the park service in 1950.

THE LAW OF ASTONISHING RETURNS

Chicago—(P)—A partner in a north side automobile agency answered the telephone. The caller said he had a used car to sell for $50. The car, it turned out, was a 1919 model. The agency man was astonished. But so, probably, was the owner. Because the agency man, who knew a showpiece when he saw one, bought it.
